

Dear All

I hope everyone has had a good summer and is now ready to get stuck back in to Carver theatre activity!

Just a few quick notes to pass on before the first show of the season opens on 19th September. Yes you read it right, due to the huge demand for tickets we are opening the final dress rehearsal of Calendar Girls to the public. Reduced price tickets are available from Hollins.

For the show we are still looking for Front of House and Bar help, so if you are available please contact Dave Davies re Front of House or Mike Coleman for bar duty, (david.davies12@btconnect.com or mikecoleman@uwclub.net).

During Calendar Girls we will also be trialling a new system for teas and coffees - please see attached message from John for more information. If you or your guests like to have a tea or coffee at the interval, then please note the changes. It would be helpful too if you could pass on the information to any non-members you know who are intending to watch Calendar Girls so they are prepared when they arrive. Watch out too for a new raffle and do support it, the theatre raises some welcome funds through this every year, and are also to make a healthy donation to charity from the raffle proceeds. Raffle and Programmes will be sold via the old sweet kiosk in the Foyer of the theatre.

Finally, I have also attached a flyer for a Calendar Girls event in London on 7th October. There is a code for discounted tickets if anyone is interested.

Stuart

CHANGES TO INTERVAL TEA AND COFFEE ARRANGEMENTS

Our theatre is, of course, run entirely by volunteers and we are trying out a few new arrangements, starting with Calendar Girls, to make best use of their efforts.

Let us know what you think.

The interval tea and coffee service on Monday through Thursday will be laid out differently with more of a self service aspect to it but there will be more choice and there will be people on hand to help.

There will be no interval teas or coffees served on Fridays or Saturdays but interval soft drinks, beers, wines and spirits can be pre-ordered from the bar before the performance commences.

We will review how the new arrangements have worked immediately after Calendar Girls.

John Woodruff
Carver Chairman